The "Pat" theatre opened last evening in the attractive new rooms on east 6th street. Manager Lonergan has left nothing undone which would make this place of amusement a popular one and the large crowd in attendance last evening testified that his efforts were appreciated. The inclined floor is seated with 200 opera chairs, the aisles are felt covered, the walls and ceiling nicely decorated, the lighting system unique and the ventilation good. Manager Lonergan proposes to present to the people only the better class of films—pictures that are selected by him and not shoved on him. Piano and cornet music and songs materially add to the evening's enjoyment at The Pat.

The Junior and Senior party Saturday evening was one of the most unique and enjoyable social Halloween gatherings. The 1913's were guests of the seniors and all met at the Central school garbed in ghostly garments. A procession was formed to an empty house on west 5th street which had previously been decorated in pumpkins, lanterns, red ears of corn etc. The floors were strewn with hay and ghosts were stationed in spooky corners. The attempt of the lower classes to steal the refreshments proved useless, therefore nothing marred the pleasure of the evening. Halloween games and tricks followed in rapid succession and during the evening cider, pumpkin pie, pop corn and apples were served.

Here's a Nebraska Case.

A great hoorah has been made over the expenditure of money by Senator Stephenson of Wisconsin, to secure a seat in the United States senate, but a parallel case is reported in Nebraska by the following dispatch from Norfolk: An investigation of the estate of P. E. McKillip, bankrupt, discloses that in his campaign for congress in the Third congressional district in 1904, against J. J. McCarthy, he gave checks for campaign purposes amounting to $26,067.29, and spent in addition to the amount represented by checks the sum of $12,000, making a total expenditure in that campaign of $38,067.29. This enormous use of funds undoubtedly contributed largely to McKillip's financial downfall.

Dan V. Stephens, the present democratic candidate for congress, was his chairman and political manager.

Train No. 4, the Atlantic express, one of the fast trains on the Union Pacific, while passing through the town of Rock River, Wyo., Saturday morning, crashed into a freight train standing on a siding, instantly killing two, the fireman and engineer on No. 4, and seriously injuring twenty-two others, two of whom died a short time afterwards. No. 4 was passing through the town and had a clear track. A freight train was standing on the siding awaiting for the passenger to pass. The brakeman, stationed at the rear of the freight, in some way became confused and threw the switch, just as No. 4 approached so that it crashed into the rear of the freight train. The engineer and fireman of the passenger train were killed almost instantly and the other two who are dead were unidentified Italian laborers who were in the caboose at the rear of the freight train.

"The Campus" as produced at the Keith last night, proved one of the cleanest, brightest and most enjoyable musical comedies North Platte has ever seen and heard. Walter De Leon is a clean-cut comedian, and "Muggins" Davies is as bright and winsome an actress as one could wish. The supporting company is not only large but good. "The Campus" is a play that can be commended.
